

ECO SMART STATION – RANCHI

Ranchi is an Eco Smart Station of South Eastern railway. The station is serving the capital city Ranchi of Jharkhand. In November 1907, Ranchi Railway Station was bought on India's Railway map with the Purulia- Ranchi narrow gauge line. In 1911, it was extended up to Lohardaga. In 2003, the Ranchi division was carved out from the existing Adra railway division of South Eastern Railway.

Suggestions and Grievances if any may be write to ecosmart.stn@ser.railnet.gov.in.